Hello and welcome to the November 2018 edition of Dental Health Services Library Newsletter.

Staff are now able to access, via the online library eBook webpage, Dental Trauma Guide. To access this guide (screenshots to assist are over the page):

- Go to the DHS webpage, then Online Library (top right orange highlighted section on page)
- Choose Books and AV Resources from the blue tabs; eBooks from the dropdown menu
- When this page opens you will automatically see “Dental Trauma Guide” in the top box.

This item may assist clinical staff wanting, readily available information on treatment options and possible outcomes for discussion points with trauma patients or their parents/guardians.

The library has assisted many of you over the past year, both clinical and non-clinical staff, with our borrowing base and collection continually expanding. The library is manned 3 days per week (Monday, Wednesday and Friday); all patrons are still able to borrow during unmanned times using our manual checkout system, so when at Head Office, please pop in and browse the collection. Borrowing has now ceased for 2018 but you may put a Hold on an item and it will be sent to you when borrowing begins again in 2019.

New member registration forms are readily available if you would like to borrow an item and have not as yet become a patron.

You may also email (library@dental.health.wa.gov.au) /phone (9313 0610) /fax (9313 4141) the library with any questions or requests and I will respond as soon as possible.

As the year winds down towards its end, we look forward to some quiet time and a little R&R with our family and friends – I hope this involves lots of laughter (and perhaps reading!!) as well.

This is the final newsletter for 2018….the next edition will be in February. Hoping everyone has a relaxing few weeks ahead: a wonderful Christmas, with 2019 seeing you happy and healthy!

Do you, or someone you know, live with snoring, teeth grinding, poor sleep, aches and pains, chronic fatigue, moodiness, and other seemingly inexplicable symptoms? Your whole body suffers oxygen deficiency from a clogged airway and poor sleep when your mouth is structurally impaired. This book connects the dots between your mouth structure and total health. “Six-foot tiger” is the vicious medical, dental, mood, and financial consequences of a “three-foot cage” - a mouth that's too small for the tongue.
This text provides fundamental coverage of the materials on which dentistry depends, covering the structure and chemistry that govern the behavior and performance of materials. Particular classes of materials include gypsum, polymers, acrylic, cements, waxes, ceramics and metals. Other chapters review surfaces, corrosion, mixing, casting, cutting and bonding, and mechanical testing.

MIMS, Therapeutic Guidelines and Australian Medicines Handbook and the Australian Schedule of Dental Services and Glossary

The paper format of MIMS is no longer available to staff. However the online version is available via the Library online under Drug Information. Also available are the Therapeutic Guidelines and the Australian Medicines handbook.

Under Mobile Resources, you can also purchase MIMS for your smartphone from MIMS.

Want an even faster Drug Reference access point without having to access the Library site?
Mobile access

What is a mobile site?
A mobile (web) site has been optimised for viewing by a mobile device. It usually has a “stripped down” appearance to make it quicker to download and easier to view on a smaller screen. Mobile sites can be accessed from any mobile web browser regardless of the type of device.

What is a mobile resource?
A mobile resource is any resource such as a journal database or point-of-care tool that can be accessed by a mobile device. The resource may or may not have been optimised for viewing on your mobile platform as it may be device or operating system dependent - for example, a resource may be available only as an iPhone app.

This guide is designed to provide an introduction to WA DoH library content, resources and applications that can be accessed using mobile devices such as PDAs, Palm Pilots, Blackberries and iPads/iPhones.
For the most part, mobile devices that support web browsing can be used to access online library resources, however some have special features that make viewing easier on a portable device.

Important notes:
For technical information and support for your mobile device please consult your manual.
Mobile access is not free access. While some products include mobile access as part of the Library’s ongoing subscription, some products such as MIMS, will require additional individual expense to enable mobile access.
All internet-enabled devices can access the library pages and resources, but not all resources are optimised for viewing on a mobile device and some of the features may not be available via your mobile device.
Some resource links will send you directly to a specially developed mobile site, while others will send you to applications to download.
Subscription resources often require that you first register yourself and/or your device.

Remember you can also purchase MIMS for your smart phone.
