Hello and welcome to the May 2019 edition of Dental Health Services Library Newsletter.

When downloading from our list of eBooks on the DHS Library website, you may now be asked to create an account….there have been some changes by the supplier of the eBooks in question, making the creation of an account the only way you are able to download; please do not opt out, but instead create your account which enables you to go ahead as planned.

New eBooks are added to the webpage regularly for you to read…simply log into the Online Library; choose E-Books from the dropdown menu when hovering on Books and AV Resources (blue tabs); click on your title of choice; enjoy!

I know there will be a number of ADO’s who are extremely pleased to hear the library has recently purchased a small portable projector screen (viewing screen size 101cm) which will sit on any flat surface (table/desk). When closed, the screen is approximately 87cm(L) x 7cm(H), weighing approximately 2kg; it is very easy to carry, transport and set up, making it ideal for Area Meetings – please contact the library if you would like to loan it next time you borrow a projector.

Please ensure you are aware of the date your loaned items are due for return, especially when taking leave….it sometimes proves difficult to contact patrons when not available through the work email/phone; though it is the lender’s responsibility to return items, we all become caught up in the freedom of vacations and our minds are often elsewhere from the work library (I don’t know how that could possibly be so, but it happens!!). Additionally, annual allotted points are lost according to the length of time each item is overdue, resulting in the extreme to suspension from borrowing, so please return in good time.

Have a wonderful month ahead.

Heather

Color atlas of oral and maxillofacial diseases / Neville, Brad W; Damm, Douglas D; Allen, Carl M; Chi, Angela C. Elsevier. Philadelphia. 2019. 534 pp. WU 140. 401004846

This text provides comprehensive, practical information on the most common oral and maxillofacial diseases and disorders. It uses a quick-access atlas format to help you easily look up clinical signs, diagnosis, and treatments. Nearly 750 high-quality images accompanied by brief narratives demonstrate exactly what clinical signs to look for – making an intervention as timely as possible.
A manual for writers of research papers, theses, and dissertations / Turabian, Kate L. University of Chicago Press. Chicago. 2018. 462 pp. Z 5053. 401004841

New edition of a classic reference work recognizes recent developments in information literacy—including finding, evaluating, and citing a wide range of digital sources—and the evolving use of software for citation management, graphics, and paper format and submission while continuing to reflect best practices for research and writing.

Recent advances in Glass Ionomer cements / Soares, Renita; de Ataide, Ida de Noronha; Fernandes, Marina. LAP Lambert Academic Publishing. Mauritius. 2018. 117 pp. WU 300. 401004832

Restorative Dentistry has seen an unprecedented advancement by leaps and bounds in the past few decades, aimed towards making treatment more efficient and convenient. With the growing popularity and demand for esthetics and advances in adhesive dentistry, developments in material science have significantly progressed. This book presents a comprehensive overview of the composition, properties, manipulative variables and performance of the conventional Glass Ionomer Cement and the advancements in its chemistry, clinical application and performance that offers great promise in the treatment of early carious lesions.

Anatomy and physiology for dummies / Odya, Erin; Norris, Maggie. John Wiley and Sons Inv. Hoboken. 2017. 368 pp. QS 004. 401004859

This book is a fun, easy way to get a handle on anatomy and physiology. It introduces you to the different cells, tissues, and organs of the human body—explaining what they do and how they work together. If you’re curious about your body’s parts and processes, this beautifully illustrated guide is a great place to start.

This groundbreaking book explains why women experience burnout differently than men—and provides a simple, science-based plan to help women minimize stress, manage emotions and live a more joyful life with insights from the latest science, prescriptive advice, and helpful worksheets and exercises.

Dental care for children with special needs : a clinical guide / Nelson, Travis M; Webb, Jessica R (Editors). Springer. Switzerland. 2019. 286 pp. WU 480. 401004853

This concise manual offers best practice guidance on dental treatment of pediatric patients with special health care needs (CSHCN). Readers will find up-to-date information on case-based treatment planning, alternative caries management strategies, the use of behavioral and pharmacological interventions to facilitate delivery of quality treatment, and a team approach to care. Other important topics include techniques for effective communication with CSHCN, behavioral strategies to improve treatment acceptance, the role of occupational therapy techniques, the sensory adapted dental environment, and the use of protective stabilization.
Mentoring : the key to a fairer world / Bashir, Marie; Manning Bancroft, Jack et al. Hardie Grant Publishing. Richmond Victoria. 2018. 274 pp. GN 665. 401004892

As a 19-year-old university student, Jack Manning Bancroft founded AIME, The Australian Indigenous Mentoring Experience, with 25 Indigenous kids in Redfern. Twelve years on, more than 15,000 high school kids and 5,000 university students have been through the AIME program. AIME now has its sights set on working with 10,000 kids a year and helping close the educational gap in Australia forever. In 2017, the model was launched across the globe.

The author presents tried-and-tested steps to not only getting hired, but also the secrets to staying motivated and energized.

Filled with practical quick-step exercises, this book is designed so you can pick your path through the process; whether you’ve just decided to start the hunt or you’re gearing up for a big interview, this text will keep you poised, on-track, and motivated right up to landing your dream career.

Also available in audio CD: ACD 036

Communicating effectively in diverse cultures / Mwakikoti, Alex. Outskirts Press. Denver, Colorado. 2018. 145 pp. WZ 145. 401004861

This title discusses at length such barriers as ethnocentrism, trust, empathy, stereotyping, listening, prejudice, racism, and nonverbal aspects of communication including facial expressions, personal space, and more. The book also provides useful tips for global travelers, information that augments a sense of peace and comfort when traveling. In the end, the better we understand and communicate effectively with each other, the lesser misunderstandings and better promotion of healthier future generations that can live harmoniously together.

Metal-free restorations: the future of aesthetic dentistry / Sharma, Pratima; Bhandari, Shikha Baghi; Monga, Prashant. LAP LAMBERT Academic Publishing. Balti, Moldova. 2017. 244 pp. WU 300. 401004834

Keeping up with the modern times perspective in dentistry calls for better and more improved treatment solutions which not only confer perfect smiles but largely mimic the nature. Porcelain fused to metal crowns may provide the strength but lag behind in aesthetic demands of the patient. The idea of all ceramic restorations, with their metal free framework is a dentist's revolutionary step towards delivering aesthetically flawless smiles.

Communication skills for dental health care providers / Young, Lance Brendan; O'Toole, Cynthia Rozek; Wolf, Bianca. Quintessence Publishing Co Inc. Chicago. 2015. 342 pp. WU 061. 401004820

This evidence-based textbook presents the essential communication strategies clinicians should know to facilitate interaction with patients. With a focus on practical strategies instead of dense communication theories, the authors facilitate improved patient-provider communication and demonstrate how to elicit accurate patient information during the health interview, communicate effectively during examinations and procedures, and present preventive and restorative treatment plans from a patient-centered perspective.

body, palpitations of the heart, syncope … it makes men amazed and astonished, they know nor what to do and where they are; it tortures them many days before, with continued affrights and suspicions. It hinders most honourable attempts and makes their hearts ake and be sad. They that live in fear are never resolute and secure, never merry but in continued pain. No greater misery, no rack, no torture unlike it, ever suspicious, anxious, solicitous, they are without reason or control, without judgment. ...

The word “fear” stems from the Old English word fear, meaning sudden calamity or danger. In Middle English, as in today’s complex society, it denotes a normal, useful response to an active or imagined threat. For example, if an individual is confronted with an impending threat of fire, gunfire or very high winds, that fear can cause the individual to take lifesaving actions. Fear can also sharpen one’s wits, mobilize energies, and heighten reflexes. The physiological responses that emotional arousal causes are designed to prepare the body for the three Fs—“flight, fight, freeze.”

The paper format of MIMS is no longer available to staff. However the online version is available via the Library online under Drug Information. Also available are the Therapeutic Guidelines and the Australian Medicines handbook.

Under Mobile Resources, you can also purchase MIMS for your smartphone from MIMS.
What is a mobile site?
A mobile (web) site has been optimised for viewing by a mobile device. It usually has a "stripped down" appearance to make it quicker to download and easier to view on a smaller screen. Mobile sites can be accessed from any mobile web browser regardless of the type of device.

What is a mobile resource?
A mobile resource is any resource such as a journal database or point-of-care tool that can be accessed by a mobile device. The resource may or may not have been optimised for viewing on your mobile platform as it may be device or operating system dependent - for example, a resource may be available only as an iPhone app.

This guide is designed to provide an introduction to WA DoH library content, resources and applications that can be accessed using mobile devices such as PDAs, Palm Pilots, Blackberrys and iPads/iPhones.
For the most part, mobile devices that support web browsing can be used to access online library resources, however some have special features that make viewing easier on a portable device.

Important notes:
For technical information and support for your mobile device please consult your manual. Mobile access is not free access. While some products include mobile access as part of the Library's ongoing subscription, some products such as MIMS, will require additional individual expense to enable mobile access.
All internet-enabled devices can access the library pages and resources, but not all resources are optimised for viewing on a mobile device and some of the features may not be available via your mobile device.
Some resource links will send you directly to a specially developed mobile site, while others will send you to applications to download.
Subscription resources often require that you first register yourself and/or your device.

Remember you can also purchase MIMS for your smart phone.
